HERE’S HOW TO

Manage Your Medications
By Hedva Barenholtz Levy, PharmD, BCPS
Pharmacotherapy Specialist and Registered Pharmacist

AT THE DOCTOR’S OFFICE

- Ask about any lifestyle changes that can make your medications work better (for example, diet or exercise).
- Ask about the results of any medication-related tests and what that means for your drug therapy.
- Ask questions about any new medications the doctor prescribes:
  - How do I take it?
  - Will I need refills?
  - Are there side effects?
  - Are there interactions with other drugs?
- Bring a friend or family member along.
- Tell your physician about the names of all medications you take, including: prescription, nonprescription, dietary/herbal, vitamins, minerals, laxatives, pain relievers, sleeping aids.
- Tell your physician what matters most to you in taking a medication: fewest side effects, fewest doses, least expensive, etc.

ON YOUR OWN

- Review proper use of new dosage forms, such as an inhaler, patch or eye drops.

AT THE PHARMACY

- Ask about ways to simplify your medication regimen.
- Ask specific questions about each medication:
  - How do I store it?
  - Do I take it with or without food?
  - How do I take it?
  - What time of day do I take it?
  - Do I take it with other medications or separate from them?
  - Are there any side effects?
  - Does it interact with other medications?

“O ur job at the Area Agency on Aging is to help older adults and caregivers take the guesswork out of getting assistance and finding resources. Having the St. Louis Times RESOURCE GUIDE to give people is a great tool that helps us help older adults and their caregivers. Individuals can take home the RESOURCE GUIDE, review and digest the information when they have time to think and reflect on their needs. It also helps individuals formulate questions and educates them about the community’s services. Sometimes aging can be challenging. The St. Louis Times RESOURCE GUIDE is one more way to help make life easier.”
